

What I see for this world through G3

A book I read and re-read named The Wisdom Course mentions the following: "The great error of the present day is the idea that Man has to originate the intelligence whereby the Infinite can proceed to bring about a specific purpose or result. Nothing of this kind is necessary; the Universal Mind can be depended upon to find ways and means for bringing about any necessary manifestation. We must, however, create the ideal, and this ideal should be perfect." — Varenycuiz — Everything I have set out to create is done with this in mind.
